“ During many years of her three decades of teaching, most Crossville High students learned to like, and some learned to love, Science because of Mrs. Edith Gissendanner. Many of these students became teachers. We could all do well to adopt her philosophy of life in this quote from the Times-Journal, October 1, 2015: “She shared with me her secret to longevity,” said Edith’s nurse, Crystal Cook. “She said ‘yesterday is gone and there’s nothing you can do about it, so don’t worry.’”
May God bless her family,
